

“Sociology and War”

The fourth in a series of conferences sponsored by Triangle Universities Security Seminar
as part of its Study of War Project

Friday, 18 November 1994
North Carolina State University Faculty Club, Raleigh, NC

8:00 - 8:50 a.m.	Registration
8:50 - 9:00 a.m.	Welcoming Remarks (University Room)
9:00 - 10:30 a.m.	Michael Mann (University of California at Los Angeles) “A Macrosociological Approach to the Study of War”
10:30 - 10:45 a.m.	Break
10:45 - 12:15 p.m.	Martin Shaw (University of Hull) “Analyzing the Fragmentary Peace: New Challenges for the Sociology of War and Militarism”
12:30 - 1:30 p.m.	Luncheon
1:45 - 3:15 p.m.	James Burk (Texas A & M University) “Major Trends in Civil-Military Relations”
3:15 - 3:30 p.m.	Break
3:30 - 5:00 p.m.	Laura Miller (University of Chicago) “Women Soldiers and the Changing Face of War”
5:00 - 6:00 p.m.	Reception (State Room)