

Eighth Annual New Faces Conference
 Friday Center, Chapel Hill, NC
 Friday, September 7th and Saturday, September 8th, 2007

Friday, September 7th, 2007

8:00 – 9:15 AM	Breakfast at Southern Seasons
9:30 – 10:00 AM	Registration
10:00 – 10:10 AM	“Welcome.” (Friday Center, Sunflower Room) Peter Feaver, TISS Director.
10:10 – 11:30 AM	Kyle Joyce , Political Science, Pennsylvania State University, “A Theory of War Expansion.” Faculty Discussant: Mark Crescenzi, Political Science, University of North Carolina-Chapel Hill. Graduate Student Discussant: Sebastian Lukasik, History, Duke University. Chair, Peter Feaver, Political Science, Duke University.
11:30 – 12:25 PM	LUNCHEON (Friday Center, Trillium)
12:30 – 1:50 PM	Leo Blanken , Political Science, University of California-Davis, “Rational Empires: An Institutional Theory of Imperial Expansion.” Faculty Discussant: Stephen Gent, Political Science, University of North Carolina-Chapel Hill. Graduate Student Discussant: Sarah Lincoln, English, Duke University. Chair: Alex Downes, Political Science, Duke University.
1:50 – 2:10 PM	Break
2:10 – 3:30 PM	Michael Allsep , History, University of North Carolina-Chapel Hill, “Elihu Root, New York Elites, and the Creation of the Military-Industrial Complex.” Faculty Discussant: Dirk Bönker, History, Duke University. Graduate Student Discussant: Christine Carpino, Political Science, University of North Carolina-Chapel Hill. Chair, Michael Struett, Political Science, North Carolina State University.
3:30 – 3:50 PM	Break
3:50 – 5:10 PM	Lindsay Cohn , Political Science, Duke University, “Who Will Serve? Education, Labor Markets, and Military Manpower.” Faculty Discussant: Christopher Gelpi, Political Science, Duke University. Graduate Student Discussant: Michael Weisel, History, Duke University. Chair: Richard Kearney, School of Public and International Affairs, North Carolina State University.
5:10 – 5:50 PM	Reception (Friday Center, Magnolia Lounge)
6:00 – 8:00 PM	Dinner (B. Christophers Restaurant, Meadowmont)

Saturday, September 8th, 2007

8:30 – 9:05 AM	Registration and Continental Breakfast (Friday Center)
9:10 – 10:30 AM	Robert Robinson , History, Ohio State University, “Creating Foreign Policy Locally: Migratory Labor and the Texas Border, 1943-1952.” Faculty Discussant: John Thompson, History, Duke University. Graduate Student Discussant: Katja Kleinberg, Political Science, University of North Carolina-Chapel Hill. Chair: Mark Crescenzi, Political Science, University of North Carolina-Chapel Hill.
10:30 – 10:50 AM	Break
10:50 – 12:10 AM	Daniel Walker , History, Vanderbilt University, “Competing Interests: The Cold War Diplomacy of Cyrus Vance.” Faculty Discussant: Nancy Mitchell, History, North Carolina State University. Graduate Student Discussant: Camber Warren, Political Science, Duke University. Chair: Joe Caddell, History, North Carolina State University and University of North Carolina-Chapel Hill.
12:10 – 1:05 PM	LUNCHEON (Friday Center, Atrium – Second Floor)
1:10 – 2:30 PM	Sarah Kreps , Government, Georgetown University, “Multilateralism under Unipolarity: A Study of Post- Cold War U.S. Military Interventions.” Faculty Discussant: William A. Boettcher, Political Science and Public Administration, North Carolina State University. Graduate Student Discussant: Jacqueline Whitt, History, University of North Carolina-Chapel Hill. Chair: Alex Downes, Political Science, Duke University.
2:30 – 2:50 PM	Break
2:50 – 4:10 PM	Lindsay Heger , Political Science, University of California-San Diego, “In the Crosshairs: The Targets of Unconventional Violence.” Faculty Discussant: Alex Downes, Political Science, Duke University. Graduate Student Discussant: Steve Sacco, Sociology, Duke University. Chair: Alex Roland, History, Duke University.
4:10 – 4:30 PM	“Wrap Up.” Timothy McKeown, Political Science, University of North Carolina-Chapel Hill.
4:30 – 35 PM	“Farewell.” William Boettcher, New Faces Co-Chair.
6:00 – 8:00 PM	BBQ (Caddell Home)